The Eclectic Magazine of Foreign Literature, IN literary merit and sterling worth, is without a question the best Magazine published. It is such, because it comprises, in moderate compass and convenient form, the excellences—the choicest articles—the cream, so to speak, of all the leading Foreign Quarterlies and Magazines, and the productions of their most gifted pens. In this respect, the Eclectic has a decided advantage over all other Magazines. Consisting articles of mere local interest and minor importance to the American resider, its pages offer to its patrons a large amount of literary wealth, of permanent value, at a small price.

The Eclectic is published in monthly numbers of left pages cash, making three large volumes a year, and nearly 1,400 pages, richly embellished with 12 pleaded portraits of distinguished persons or historical subjects. The price is $5 s year. The January sumber begins a new volume. Now is a good time to subscribe. Orders for the work are solicited. It will be sent promptly by mail to all who order it.

THE SOVEREIGN RULE OF SOUTH CAROLINA Views of Southern Laws, Life, and Hospitality Written in Charleston, S. C., by F. C. Adams.

Written in Charleston, S. C., by F. C. Adams.

THE above work forms a beautiful 12mo volume of over 300 pages, small pica. Price—in paper, 50 cents; muslin, 75 cents. The usual discount to the Trade. Orders solicited. Copies sent by mail, prepaid, any distance under 3,000 miles, for 61 cents.

The above work is a delineation of the scenes and incidents connected with the imprisonment, in 1852 of Manuel Pereira, stoward of the British brig Jan son, in the jail of Charleston, S. C.

The following notice of this work is copied from the National Bra of February 17:

"The above is the title of a work now in press founded upon that infamous statute of South Carolina, by which her citizens claim a right to imprison colorea scamen, of all nations, and even those cast upon their shores in distress. We have perused the book in advance of its publication, and find that it gives a life like picture of Pereira, the vessel in which he sailed the storms she encountered, and her wrecked condition when brought into the port of Charleston, S. C.; together with the imprisonment of Pereira, several sea men belonging to the New England States, and two French seamen; the prison regimen, character of the Charleston police, and the mendacity of certain officials, who make the law a medium of peculation. The work is replete with incidents of Southern life and character, pointing Southerners to the things that call for correction at their own hands, with a force that cannot be mistaken. The work is written by one who has taken a prominent part in the affairs of the South and cannot fail to interest alike the general reader, commercial man, and philanthropist."

NEW BOOK BY REV. JACOB ABBOTT. "BOLLO ON THE ATLANTIC."

"ROLLO ON THE ATLANTIC,"

DEAUTIFULLY illustrated with original designs.

"Rollo on the Atlantic" is the first book of a series to be published under the general title of Rollo's Tour in Europe.

Extract from the Preface:

"The books are intended to be books of instruction, rather than of mere amusement; and, in perusing them, the reader may feel assured that all the information which they contain, not only in respect to the countries visited, and to the customs, usages, and modes of life that are described, but also in regard to the general character of the incidents and adventures that the young travellers meet with, is in most strict accordance with fact. The main design of the narrative is thus the communication of useful knowledge; and everything which they contain, except what is strictly personal, in relation to the actors in the story, may be depended upon as exactly and scrupulously true."

tory of the work:

From Prof. Chauncey A. Goodrich, D. D., of Yale College.

"I consider Prof. Cleveland's 'English Literature of the Nineteenth Century' an appropriate sequel to his 'Compendium.' The author has shown the same just and delicate appreciation of literary excollence in this, as in the former volume; and, as it reaches down to our times, it will be still more interesting to a large portion of the public, and especially to the young. Few persons can understand what an amount of reading, thought, nice discrimination, and laborious cor densation of knowledge, are requisite to the production of such a work; and just in proportion as men toil more extensively in this field, will be the estimate they will put upon this result of the author's labors."

From George B. Emerson, Esq., of Boston.

estimate they will put upon this result of the author's labors."

From George B. Emerson, Esq., of Boston.

"I have examined your 'English Literature of the Ninetsenth Century,' and I like it exceedingly It is extremely well and fairly done. The biographical notices are just and discriminating; and, while they are long enough to gratify the curiosity we have to know something of an author, they are so spirited as to awaken a desire to know more. The selections are admirable. I have adopted the work as a text nook for my first class, every individual of which is now preparing, under its guidance, to give a faller account of the writings of some one chosen author."

From Rev. B. P. Aydelott, D. D., of Cincianati.

"I have examined with much care, and still greater pleasure, and, I trust, not a little profit, your English Literature of the Nineteenth Century."

"I is, I believe, the richest collection of gens in our language. There is nothing in it I would omit, and yet it is not too large for popular use. Considering the very brief limits to which you were obliged to confine yourself, I am surprised at the fullness and richness of your biographical details. Your most difficult and delicate task, however, was the critical judgment to be passed upon each author; and bere I think you have been very happy—discriminating and just, and yet kind. " But.4 would feel that whatever I have said about the volume, however true, ought to be considered as of little worth, could I not add—as I cheerfully do—a strong testimony to its high moral tone and coninently Christian spirit. The general reader cannot fail to be interested, the student profited, the scholar delighted, and the man of picty pleased, with your 'English Literature of the Nineteenth Century."

Cleveland, O A NEW VOLUME FOR THE HOUSEHOLD. PUBLISHED BY WILLIS P. HAZARD, 178 Ches nut street, above Seventh, Philadelphia. COOKERY AS IT SHOULD BE

A new manual of the dining-room and kitchen, containing original recipes in every branch of cookery domestic beverages, food for invalids, pickling, &c Together with bill of fare for every day in the year rules for carving, &c., by a Practical Housekeeper, and pupil of Mrs. Goodfellow. With appropriate illustrations. 12mc. cloth or half-bound, 75 cents. and pupil of Mrs. Goodfellow. With appropriate illustrations. 12mo, cloth or half-bound, 75 cents.

Cookery as it should be? Ah, well, that's a pretty bold title! And a dubious one, too, exclaims another, a for if the authoress is going to tell us what it should be, that will be nothing new, for we all know by daily experience what it should and could be, but what it is not. Well, she tells you what it should be, and how to make it so; and in short, plain, practical, and simple rules, such as the result of a long and constantly active experience in providing for the daily wants of a large household, enables her to do in the very best manner. Every one who has eaten at our authoress's board will bear ample testimony to the excellent qualities of the many good things she daily sets before them, prepared under her own superintendence, and the rules for making which she herein sets forth.

The recipes of the world-renowned Mrs. Goodfellow, for cakes, pastry, and sweetmeats, are now for the first time collected together for the benefit of all who desire to be good housekeepers.

In short, this new Cook Book is offered to the public as the best which has ever been prepared, and the publisher invites all housekeepers to purchase it and give it a trial, confident that they will recommend it to their friends as the only practical Cook Book of which they can make daily use in all their household duties.

THE JUVENILE INSTRUCTOR.

Edited by Uncle Lucius, Syracuse, N. Y.

THE want of a paper for children, of a reformatory character, has long been foit. The juvenile papers of our land do not meet the demands of the community. They please the eye and interest the reader, but do not instruct and enlighten the mind with reterence to the great sins of the day. Reformers! The Juvenile instructor is intended to meet this demand. It is the paper for children—for Sabbath schools and Day schools.

The Instructor is published every other week, or twenty-six numbers per year. A new volume commences January 5, 1854. A Corresponding Editor has been secured. Her writings for children are already known and admired by many. Illustrations will be given in every number. No reasonable expense will be spared to make it attractive. Five thousand subscribers were added last year.

PROSPECTUS OF THE PROHIBITIONIST

ON or before the 1st of January, 1854, the Executive Committee of the New York State Temperance Society will issue the first number of a Monthly Temperance Journal, under the title of "The Pro-ly Temperance Journal, under the title of "THE PROHINITIONIST."

ITS SIZE.—It will be printed on a double medium sheet, making eight quarto pages, of four columns to a page; and, excluding advertisements, each number will contain an amount of reading matter equal at least to that furnished by our larger-sized daily journals, or to that of an ordinary duedecime volume of 150 pages.

ITS OBJECT.—To advocate the Cause of Temperance generally, and especially the Legislative Prohibition of the Traffic in Intericating Beverages, to prepare the minds of the masses for such Prohibition, by showing its expediency and Necessity, and to secure, by all the influence it may legitimately exert, the vigorous onforcement of Prohibitory Laws when obtained.

ITS FIELD.—Dealing with general principles, with vigorous enforcement of Prohibitory Laws when obtained.

Its Firld.—Dealing with general principles, with arguments alike applicable to every community where the traffic exists and with facts illustrative of these arguments and principles, the paper will be National in its spirit, in its scope, in its purpose, and, we trust, it will be National in its circulation and influence. Such is our aim and expectation. We desire to see the Principle of Prohibition established in State after State, till it becomes the recognized policy of the Nation. It is our ambition to bear a part in this great work, and to this end The Prohibitions its stablished, not as the organ of a society merely, but of a Great Repormatory Movement.

Its NRCESSITY.—The existing Temperance Journals have little, if any, circulation outside of the Temperance Ranks. Their price almost necessarily restricts them to the friends of the cause. The Prohibitions it is purpose it is put at a price so low as to enable the friends of Temperance in every school district, by combined action and at an inconsiderable expense, to place a copy in each family that will consent to receive it.

No subscription received for less than one year, and in every case the order must be accompanied by the meany.

and in every case the order must be accompanied by the money.

The paper will be under the general direction of the Executive Committee, who have received ample assurances of literary aid from not a few of the ablest and most eminent writers in the temperance ranks throughout the Union.

The work will be stereotyped, and back numbers can be supplied to new subscribers at any time during the year.

All orders should be addressed to O. Scovill, Publishing Agent, Albany.

Communications for the paper, or in relation to the interests of the cause generally, should be directed to Wm. H. Burleigh, Corresponding Secretary.

THE NEW YORK MUSICAL REVIEW CHORAL ADVOCATE

CHORAL ADVOCATE

Is the cheapest and best Musical Paper in the world. This Journal, which has heretofore been published monthly, commences its fifth year in January next, and thenceforward it will be published every two weeks—on every other Thursday; thereby giving more than twice as much matter, without any increase in price. Each number contains sixteen quarte pages, four of which are new music, consisting of glees, hymn tunes, chants, anthems, dedication and helyday pieces, and, in short, every variety of music adapted to purposes of religious worship, to public occasions, and to the home circle; all of which will be of a practical character, and such as can be sang by persons of ordinary musical attainments. In the editorial department of the Review are engaged (in addition to Mr. Cady, the former editor) gentlemen of the highest talent and ripest musical experience, among whom are George P. Root, William B. Bradbury, Thomas Hastings, and Lowell Mason; and its circle of correspondence, home and foreign, is complete. The Review will also be a regular medium for the announcement of new musical publications by all the leading publishing houses in the

as well as (it is hoped) the most valuable musical paper ever published, must largely increase its already unparalleled circulation.

Terms.— One dellar per annum, or six copies for five dellars, always in advance.

The music alone in a volume would cost over five dellars in the usual form. Beside this, there will be an immense amount of musical news, essays, criticism, instruction, &c., all for only one dellar! Every one feeling a particle of interest in the cause of music will surely subscribe.

Blackwood's Edinburgh Magazine (Tory.)
These Reprints have now been in successful operation in this country for twenty years, and their circulation is constantly on the increase, notwithstanding the competition they encounter from American periodicals of a similar class, and of numerous Execution and Magazines made up of selections from foreign periodicals. This fact shows clearly the high estimation in which they are held by the intelligent reading public, and affords a guarantee that they are estab lished on a firm basis, and will be continued without interruption.

THE GREAT AMERICAN TEMPERANCE TALE. MRS. BEN DARBY;

THE WEAL AND WOE OF SOCIAL LIFE.

One Volume 12mo, $1. One Volume 12mo, $1.

The object of this tale is to exhibit in different phases, in high life and low life, the accursed effects of intemperate drinking, the hanc of social life, the curse of civilized man. The characters are well and sharply drawn, and the various scenes are described with much spirit and graphic effect. *

* We are disposed to regard the book as the best of its kind that has yet appeared.—Boston Traveller.

It is not often that we read a story of any kind, but we have broken our practice, and have read this book, not only with pleasure, but with a gratification which but very few novels have ever afforded us. It is a quiet and simple, but still striking and effective picture of American social life.—Chicago Tribune. Written with marked ability .- Zanesville Courier.

A thrilling picture of the effects of that informal bane of social life, intemperance.—Richmond Palladrum.

bane of social life, intemperance.—Richmond Palladium.

The style is attractive and fascinating; there is a freshness and originality about it, that is very pleasing. * * * One of its chief merits is the excellence of its conversations.—Enquirer.

Has so many thrilling passages and well-drawn characters, that you read it with absorbed attention. It cannot fail to achieve for Mrs. Collins an envisible popularity. She takes us with her to the drunkard's home, and tells of the hunger and the fear, the toil and the suffering, that are there. She paints, with a woman's delicate skill, the meck patience, the long-abused, but unchanging love of the drunkard's wife, touches the deepest chords of the heart, and makes them vibrate with pity and with indignation. Christian Herald.

makes them vibrate with pity and with indignation. Christian Herald.

Though Mrs. Collins has already hosts of admirers of her literary productions, this work, we predict, will increase that number ten-fold, and give her a reputation worthy of her high talents.—

The style is easy, natural, beautiful, chaste, and at times very closurent. We would command it as.

at times very eloquent. We would commend it especially to young ladies, that they may see to what dangers they are exposed, in forming alliances with the fishionable in high life.—Ohio Organ. A deeply interesting and powerful work. It vivid-ly portrays some of the terrific exploits of strong drink in both high and low life. Nor are such scenes as it depicts either imaginary or few. Let this book circulate. It has a beneficent aim, and is the vehicle of admirably old and most salulary lossons.—Pres-buteriar.

to hold the torch to such a dark recess of human wee.—Daily Times.

We know of no passage, anywhere, more uniquely beautiful, more intensely absorbing, more overpowering in the pathetic, than the thirty-fourth chapter. It is indeed a gem. We doubt whether the celebrated chapter devoted to the death of Eva, in Uncle Tom's Cabin, is superior. * * It is certainly the most powerful temperance tale that we have ever perused.—Journal and Messenger.

Beautifully written. * * A work of great strength and power.—Gospel Herald.

* * * The incidents dramatic, and the interest intense to the end.—Ohio Statesman.

Wields an easy pen, and sketches men and man ners to the life.—Presbyterian Herald. Graphic, truthful, chaste, and deeply affecting, the story winds itself into our feelings, and we become absorbed in the plot, as if we beheld before our own eyes the realities of the author's delineations.— Danily Sun.

or bound together.

A copious Index is weekly added, which will be fully amplified at the end of the year, for the bound work.

Comprehensive in its Character,

Each volume will contain all matter worth recording, which transpires either at home or abroad, and which can serve to instruct or interest the Earmer, the Planter, the Fruit-Grower, the Gardener; and the Stock-Breeder; thus making it the most complete and useful Agricultural Publication of the day.

Correct and valuable Market Reports.

The Markets will be carefully reported, giving the actual transactions which take place from week to week, in Grain, Provisions, Cattle, &c.; thus keeping our readers constantly and reliably advised as to their interests. During the past year, the knowledge obtained from these Market Reports alone has saved our readers thousands of dollars, by informing them of the best time to sell or purchase.

Such a Paper is demanded by the Farming Community.

The publishers confidently believe that the agriculturists of this country are becoming too much awake to the demands of their own calling to be longer satisfied with the slow monthly issues of a paper professedly devoted to their interests, or to trust alone to the irresponsible extracts in a "farmer's column," so popular just now in papers chiefly devoted to business, polities, or literature; and they look for the united support of all the intelligent farmers of this country in their continued effort to farmish a weekly paper of a high and reliable character, which shall be progressive, and at the same time cautious and conservative in all its teachings.

Essentially an Agricultural Paper.

The Agriculturist will not depart from its legitimate sphere to catch popular favor by lumbering up its pages, with the silly, fictitious literature, and light, miscellaneous matter of the day; it has a higher aim; and a small part only of its paper under the guidance of these who will make it a standard work, which shall communicate to its readers only that which is affe and reliable.
